Teacher Assistant's DESCRIPTION

- Teacher assistants play a supporting role in the classroom. They work under the lead teacher's supervision to give students added educational support and instruction.
- This is a privilege that is granted to a Seton Senior in good academic and disciplinary standing. The student must be respectful, responsible, and professional and must have an assertive presence in the classroom. A TA must have subject matter competency, a desire to help/assist others, and must exhibit the necessary maturity to handle the responsibilities of being a TA. Arriving to school and class on time is also expected.
- The student must request to become the TA of a class that he/she has already taken and get permission from the supervising teacher, dept head and/or academic dean as well as the dean of discipline to request this on their scheduling form.
- The TA would be required to attend a training meeting before the upcoming school year begins and sign the TA agreement.
- A TA does not receive academic credit, but the TA position will be noted on their transcript.
